

This week's topics:

1. THEM?

2. More evidence for the UN-Dead's Inter-galactic Panel of Cosmic Clowns (IPCC)

1. THEM?

In the last several weeks I have concluded with a minor reference to "THEM", the "THEY" in the THEorY of LIVEvolution. If you haven't read the book or various other points on this web site be aware of this: Evolution is absolutely NOT about "science". It is so dumb S-C-I-E-N-T-I-F-I-C-A-L-L-Y that its only purpose is direct rebellion against God, the real One. So as not to be redundant simply take the SCIENTIFIC (No God Allowed) evolution challenge on top of the home page. After you're done, come back....

So yes all the "evolutionary biologists", "theorists" and associated fools, God's word, are well just a bunch of fools, clowns, suckers and lackeys who are doing us all the favor of eliminating God, the real One, from society that in turn leads to despotism umm the "utopia" of the "Great" Society. This concept was made all too clear by just about every one of our Founding Fathers who warned against a Godless America. So just by this you can begin to see my disdain for the ACLU, People for the American Way, Moveon.org, MTV, Americans United for the Separation of Church and State, and on and on...

So what then is really the deal with "evolution"? As documented in "The THEorY of LIVEvolution" it's about the return of THEM and/or the attainment of becoming like THEM by acquiring "Gnosticism" or "knowledge" that humans can become God, the real One. If this sounds familiar for those even vaguely familiar with the Bible it should, it's the "story" of Adam and Eve told from THEIR perspective. In "The THEorY of LIVEvolution" I made the case that UFOs are directly related to Biblical "fallen angels" or "demons". Before you dismiss this scenario out of hand, be aware that THEY have been recorded throughout history from the hieroglyphics of the first organized civilizations in Babylon (modern day Iraq) to the cave paintings of Indian civilizations in North America to various news stories today, February 2009. Many stories, of course, are mere hoaxes and/or explained away.

But there are way too many that have not been explained away. Additionally, NO modern day "expert" can tell us how a bunch of copper tool wielding Egyptians were able to create the "Great" Pyramid complex at Giza with an effort in terms of time and technology that could not be accomplished today. Never mind Stonehenge, the Mayan pyramids, ancient pre-cursors to the modern analog computer, ancient maps of the solar system produced thousands of years before NASA or telescopes, etc. etc. The background for all of this was covered in Section 3 of "The THEorY of LIVEvolution". Before you deem me the "kook" or "crazy", much more will be covered on the Related Links page in the Mystery, Babylon, USA link. For now suffice it to say a nonreligious scientist named Ivan Sanderson in his book "Uninvited Visitors" has looked at the UFO phenomena from a strictly logical, Scientific Method viewpoint. One of his postulations is a form of "life" he terms "invisibles".

For now in order to avoid redundancy let's look at some recent news stories that have snuck through the corporate news cycles the last few months that could very possibly point to "THEM":

Let's start in the "Late Great USA". On November 7, 2006 worldnetdaily.com had a news story where around one dozen employees at Chicago's O'Hare international airport including ground crew, pilots and airport personnel reported a large cylindrical object spinning in the space above one of the runways. After a few minutes the object shot vertically at a high rate of speed and then disappeared and in its wake leaving a distinctive circle in the clouds above. Early in 2008 dozens of people including local law enforcement officials in Stephenville, Texas reported a large UFO like object in the sky. Even FOX NEWS had to say something on this one and even though the locals insisted that whatever it was that they saw was NOT an airplane or anything else familiar. The (STAY ASLEEP OBEY CONFORM DON'T QUESTION AUTHORITY) "experts" on FOX NEWS parroted the government "experts" who insisted it was some guy who decided to tie some helium balloons to his lawn chair to make a weather balloon...

At the end of last week's column (2/16/09) there was a story concerning a flying object filmed in Texas. Nobody including NASA or other government "experts" claimed to know what it was. A few days later somebody had to say something since no crash site was found and it apparently was losing mass as it flew across the atmosphere. Now this "conspiracy theorist" absolutely does not claim to be some kind of astronomer. But put the timeline together with what the "experts" are telling us and being parroted by FOX NEWS.

Fireball in Sky Identified

Created On: Sunday, 15 Feb 2009, 1:12 PM CST

DALLAS - The fireball that blazed across the Texas sky and sparked numerous weekend calls to law enforcement agencies now can be considered an identified flying object.

The Federal Aviation Administration said Monday the fireball was a natural phenomenon -- not flying space junk -- and a North Texas astronomer said more specifically that it was probably a pickup truck-sized meteor with the consistency of concrete.

The object was visible Sunday morning from Austin to Dallas and into East Texas. In Central Texas, the Williamson County sheriff's office received so many emergency calls that it sent a helicopter aloft to look for debris from a plane crash.

The FAA backed off its weekend claim that the fireball possibly was caused by falling debris from colliding satellites plummeting into earth's atmosphere.

SATELLITE THEORY

The U.S. Strategic Command said there was no connection to the sightings over Texas and Tuesday's collision of satellites from the U.S. and Russia.

"There is no correlation between the debris from that collision and those reports of re-entry," said Maj. Regina Winchester, with STRATCOM.

The FAA notified pilots on Saturday to be aware of possible space debris after a collision Tuesday between U.S. and Russian communication satellites. The chief of Russia's Mission Control says clouds of debris from the collision will circle Earth for thousands of years and threaten numerous satellites.

Mystery Fireball Streaks Across Texas Sky

Monday, February 16, 2009

Jan. 15: A fireball is captured on video raining down near Austin, Texas. (video can be viewed on the foxnews.com web site)

What looked like a fireball streaked across the Texas sky on Sunday morning, leading many people to call authorities to report seeing falling debris.

"We don't know what it was," said Federal Aviation Administration spokesman Roland Herwig.

The Williamson County Sheriff's Office used a helicopter to search after callers said they thought they saw a plane crashing, a spokesman said.

"We don't doubt what people saw" but authorities found nothing, said spokesman John Foster.

The U.S. Strategic Command said there was no connection to the sightings over Texas and Tuesday's collision of satellites from the U.S. and Russia.

"There is no correlation between the debris from that collision and those reports of re-entry," said Maj. Regina Winchester, with STRATCOM.

The FAA notified pilots on Saturday to be aware of possible space debris after a collision Tuesday between U.S. and Russian communication satellites.

Note: in both news stories the video in question is dated January 15 (Thursday) not February 15 (Sunday). A case of simple carelessness perhaps.

Besides the fact all the “experts” can’t identify this thing, notice anything strange here? Look at the dates. The story explaining what it was appears before (Sunday February 15) the one claiming it couldn’t be explained (Monday February 16). Let’s give them the benefit of the doubt and explain the date of the video mentioned above as a simple mistake, instead of January 15, a Thursday it should be Sunday February 16. But then how did the video get from a marathon in Texas on Sunday morning to the “experts” to the AP’s story by Sunday afternoon? Or the alternative is that this video date of January 15 is correct and it was floating around for almost a month and the major snews finally had to address it...somehow.

Besides that just look at one of the other abnormalities here: On Monday the sixteenth the FAA spokesman claims “We don’t know what it was” yet on the Saturday prior they were supposedly warning that it was possible “space debris”. Now call me crazy but if space debris can be drawn to earth by its gravitational pull outside the atmosphere what’s keeping all the other satellites and “space debris” from crashing down? And why aren’t there constant warnings of “space debris”? And how is it that space vehicles like the Space Shuttle need to re-enter at a specific angle and speed with special protective outer coating on the ship yet this “space debris” can just mosey on through to Texas according to the “experts”? Now of course this exercise in common sense agrees with Mother Russia’s Mission Control who claims the “space debris” will “circle Earth for thousands of years”.

Is FOX sNEWS hiding something here along with the Government “experts”? Is yours truly a “UFO conspiracy kook” for asking some very relevant questions? I just reported, you decide.

Pennsylvania in the middle of UFO sightings wave (allnewsweb.com 12/7/08)

Pennsylvania is definitely in the midst of UFO mania, but the good citizens of the state are not panicking, rather they are simply reporting the unusual craft that tend to make their appearance at night to the police and various UFO related organizations.

A week into December and no less than 20 reports have been handed over to various agencies this month alone.

Let’s take a gander around the globe. A recent History Channel special on UFO’s called 2008 “the summer of the saucers” over in England. In one (of many) instance multiple witnesses in a town around 25 miles southwest of London reported a UFO like object being pursued by a helicopter for several miles. Of course the government “experts” there attributed the whole thing to a launch of Chinese New Year balloons in a town some twenty miles away. This is a direct contradiction to what multiple witnesses reported. Also, a review of weather station data from the night in question indicated the winds blowing in the exact opposite direction that would have sent the balloons in a direction towards the town where the reports were coming from.

Here's a few more from England:

Passenger Jet Almost Collided With UFO Over England (foxnews.com, 10/20/08)

A passenger jet coming in to land at Heathrow Airport had a near miss with a UFO, according to newly released British Ministry of Defense files.

The mysterious incident near Lydd in Kent in 1991 was thoroughly investigated by Britain's Civil Aviation Authority (CAA) and the British military.

But having ruled out the object being a missile, weather balloon or space rocket, the MoD closed the inquiry and left the matter unresolved.

UFO over Cathedral Causes power cuts in UK historic town (allnewsweb.com 12/5/08)

Last Saturday night a slightly luminous grey UFO was reported to police in the historic town of Bury St Edmunds in the United Kingdom. The UFO was seen spinning and hovering over the St Edmundsbury Cathedral by a townsman. Now it has emerged that the UFO was also seen by a staff member of the Cathedral. Sarah Friswell, the Cathedral's visitor officer, noted that the topic of the mysterious craft had come up in a staff meeting and one of the staff members confessed to also witnessing the rather clear UFO of a very 'Classical' appearance.

More interestingly the sighting was accompanied by unusual power cuts, confirmed by the Cathedral administration, that could not be explained by the local electricity provider.

UFO in Suffolk: More witnesses come forward More witnesses come forward claiming to have seen the St Edmundsbury Cathedral UFO (allnewsweb.com 12/11/08)

Further witnesses have come forward claiming to have seen a UFO hovering over St Edmundsbury Cathedral in Bury St Edmunds in Suffolk, UK on the Saturday night of November 29th. One of the witnesses, Carol Marsh, lives within the proximity of the Cathedral and says she and a group of friends saw dazzling lights she describes

Dramatic film of a UFO buzzing over the British coastline sent experts into orbit today (thesun.com, 2/11/08)

Holidaymakers spilled out of caravans and motorists stopped in their tracks as a mysterious cylinder hovered over a Somerset campsite.

UFO expert Malcolm Robinson said the object was “totally consistent” with other sightings.

Let's continue east over to mainland Europe. This first one points out both sides of the issue. Are governments being honest or are “the UFO conspiracy theorists” correct...

Europe Warms up to UFO Disclosure: Danish Flying Saucer Secrets Go Online (allnewsweb.com 1/31/09)

The Danish Air Force is the latest government agency to release its UFO files online. They say that their files contain no secrets about UFOs. Air Force Captain Thomas Petersen states:

'We have decided to publish it because there is nothing secret in it as such. We have continually received requests from journalists who want to see this archive. And when we tell there is nothing secret in it, they lose interest.'

Respected US researcher Richard Hall commented:

'No doubt that some potentially significant data is being withheld. I see no reason why governments, especially if they have nothing to hide, can't simply release all raw data without comment or interpretation and let scientists and other interested parties analyze and interpret it for themselves. They seem to feel a compulsion to have an 'official' position, and it has to be negative because otherwise they would have a lot of explaining to do.'

Here are a couple of interesting stories out of Greece...

Greece: Amazing UFO incident involving Air Force and Airline (allnewsweb.com 2/7/09)

Michael Cohen m.cohen@allnewsweb.com

A remarkable UFO incident that occurred in the skies over Athens over a year ago but was kept secret by the Greek Aviation Authority and the Greek Air Force has recently come to light and is receiving extensive media coverage in Greece. A recording of the conversation (in Greek) between the pilot involved and the airport control tower has been made public and can be listened to below. A copy of the official aviation authority report referring to 'Lightning 2' whereby two F-16's were scrambled to intercept the UFO can also be viewed below.

Possibly the most bizarre aspect of this sighting is that although the object was witnessed simultaneously by three pilots with decades of flying experience between them, staff at multiple radar and ground control stations and the Greek Air Force, who actually sent jets up to chase it, it has been dismissed by some Greek Government officials as a mistaken sighting of...wait for it...Venus! This, despite the fact that the captain of flight 266 remains convinced he saw a UFO.

With that in mind, are these Government officials planning to request an investigation into the capability, if not sanity, of their country's Air Force ground control staff? Don't hold your breath.

It is hardly surprising that if indeed aliens are visiting earth they would take an interest in Greece, that cradle of western civilization. What is more surprising is western media's complete non-coverage of this incident and the continuing and sometimes absurd attempts by governments to deny the obvious as far as UFOs are concerned.

Greek UFO cover up & smoking gun. (allnewsweb.com 2/8/09)

Michael Cohen m.cohen@allnewsweb.com

Just yesterday All News Web broke yet another story otherwise destined to never receive a scrap of coverage outside the country it happened in. A captain of an Olympic Airways flight (266) from Athens to London noticed a strange bright object following his plane-his sighting was then corroborated by the staff of two radar stations and observation towers on the ground, one being the control tower of the Athens Airport and the other being a Greek Air Force radar station in the mountains above Athens.

F-16 jets were scrambled to intercept the object.

The incident was kept secret for over a year until a number of Greek media outlets publicised the story based on leaked documents and testimony. Now it can be revealed that the initial aviation authority report that documented this most interesting event and was brought to light by a number of Greek media outlets was mysteriously pulled off the web within days of being published and replaced by a heavily censored version!

Obviously feel free to visit the web site and see for yourself. Let's go further east to Mother Russia...

Russia: UFO emitting beam seen by many villagers. (allnewsweb.com 1/26/09)

Michael Cohen m.cohen@allnewsweb.com

A mysterious UFO was witnessed by dozens of residents of a number of villages in Western Russia on the night of the January 6 2009. The UFO was orb shaped and changed colour from glowing white to electric blue. It periodically emitted a white laser beam in the direction of the ground. The UFO travelled in a manner unlike any man made craft. The incident was widely reported in the Russian media but unsurprisingly received no media coverage anywhere else.

Russia: Giant UFO seen by entire Siberian city, photo. (allnewsweb.com 2/17/09)

Michael Cohen m.cohen@allnewsweb.com

On February 15th of this year at around 6pm the residents of the south eastern Siberian city of Chita (population around 300,000) in Russia witnessed a giant UFO cross their city and then disappear over the horizon. Some managed to photograph the craft with their mobile phones. Shocked pedestrians stopped in the town centre and in parks and pointed to sky declaring the object to be a UFO. Above is a photo of the craft.

Let's bring the UFO 'tour' full circle back to Mexico...

Mexico: Boeing-737 crew report UFO sighting (allnewsweb.com 11/21/08)

Information is filtering through regarding a possible encounter with a UFO that occurred at 9pm, 27 October 2008 in the skies over Mexico City. The crew of a Boeing 737-200 airplane were performing a descent into Mexico City on a flight from Los Cabos, a municipality located at the southern tip of Mexico's Baja California Peninsula in the state of Baja California Sur, when they noticed a slow moving object on their left hand side.

This is not the first UFO sighting by airline crew members to have occurred in the skies above Mexico City International Airport. In 2004 the Mexican Defence Force made headlines by generally acknowledged the UFO phenomenon after a high level incident involving a number of military craft and unidentified craft that were both seen, picked up by radar and recorded during an anti-narcotics operation. Thus, Mexico is regarded by many UFO researchers as the first nation to publicly acknowledge UFO's as a reality.

This is just a sampling of the stories starting to emerge around the globe on the mainstream news cycles; remember reports of these things have been documented throughout history. Are THEY getting ready for a comeback? Or have THEY always been 'here' yet hidden in another dimension or hidden in "time"? Helena Blavatsky, the nexus of the "modern" "New" Age Movement speaks about THEM freely as do her cohorts including founder of Lucifer's Publishing Company Alice Bailey, Freemason historian Manly Hall and many others. See Kosmos and Externalization of the Hierarchy Links on the related links page to Mystery, Babylon, USA for the Scientific Method approach to analyzing THEM.

2. More evidence for the UN-Dead's Inter-galactic Panel of Cosmic Clowns (IPCC)

Just when you thought it was safe to come out from hiding and maybe the global warming (climate change?) goofballs have finally gone away since so many real scientists are jumping ship this comes out...

Climate Change rhetoric spirals out of control (infowars.com 2/21/09)

It was another bad week for the “warmists”, now more desperate than ever to whip up alarm over an overheating planet. It began last weekend with the BBC leading its bulletins on the news that a “leading climate scientist” in America, Professor Chris Field, had warned that “the severity of global warming over the next century will be much worse than previously believed”. Future temperatures “will be beyond anything predicted”, he told a Chicago conference. The Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change (IPCC) had “seriously underestimated the size of the problem”.

The puzzle as to why the BBC should make this the main news of the day only deepened when it emerged that Prof Field was not a climate scientist at all but an evolutionary biologist.

So not only is this guy a complete idiot for his lot in life as an “evolutionary biologist” (see Evolution Challenge atop the home page) he apparently has problems with his veracity. Of course there can be a deeper connection here since “evolutionary biology” regards “Mother Earth” as our true creator/goddess and the eco wackos will do anything including genocide to protect “her” (as has been thoroughly documented throughout this web site and in “The THEorY of LIVEvolution”).

Don't believe me? Check out the images from the UN-dead's “Kosmos” Magazine on the bottom of the new age page. Here you'll see the proximity of the “evolutionary biologists” with the elite founded Club of Rome that has been behind the eco wackos for decades all in a magazine named after the cosmos...as in “cosmic messengers”....
