

Here are RC Christian's anti-10 Commandments of the Georgia Guidestones:

1. Maintain humanity under 500,000,000 in perpetual balance with nature.
2. Guide reproduction wisely – improving fitness and diversity.
3. Unite humanity with a living new language.
4. Rule passion – faith - tradition and all things with tempered reason.
5. Protect people and nations with fair laws and just courts.
6. Let all nations rule internally resolving external disputes in a world court.
7. Avoid petty laws and useless officials.
8. Balance personal rights with social duties.
9. Prize truth – beauty – love – seeking harmony with the infinite.
10. Be not a cancer on the earth – Leave room for nature – Leave room for nature.

Now recall what I've been saying repeatedly: the radical environmental movement is nothing but re-packaged Babylonian and Ancient Egyptian paganism as these fools literally worship Ancient Egyptian whore goddess Isis (i.e., the Greek Gaia or "Mother Earth") or everything that is contrary to Jesus Christ, the real One, or "anti-Christ". And of course the purveyor of these things was none other than the "archetype" of everything that is "anti-Christ" or RC Christian who represents the 18th or 6+6+6 degree of Freemasonry (see 322, the Georgia Guidestones and the eco wackos on the new age page and/or the RC Christian page).

With all this in mind I've provided some quotable quotes from our very own UN-dead environmental elites:

One of the most chilling admissions of the elitists' deadly intent to forcibly commit genocide to reduce global population came from the lips of the late Jacques Cousteau, the sainted environmental icon. In an interview with the UNESCO Courier for November 1991 the famed oceanographer said:

"The damage people cause to the planet is a function of demographics — it is equal to the degree of development. One American burdens the earth much more than twenty Bangladeshes. The damage is directly linked to consumption. Our society is turning toward more and needless consumption. It is a vicious circle that I compare to cancer...."

"This is a terrible thing to say. In order to stabilize world population, we must eliminate 350,000 people per day. It is a horrible thing to say, but it's just as bad not to say it."

(from infowars.com, "Population Reduction Agenda for Dummies, 6/26/09)

The Population Council was founded by John D. Rockefeller the 3rd in 1952. The first president of the Council, Frederick Osborn, was appointed by Rockefeller. Osborn was the leader of the American Eugenics Society, and member of the Galton Society, founded in 1918.

Osborn stated in the 1956 edition of "The Eugenics Review" that,

"...the reasons advanced must be generally acceptable reasons. Let's stop telling anyone that they have a genetically inferior genetic quality, for they will never agree. Let's base our proposals on the desirability of having children born in homes where they will get affectionate and responsible care, and perhaps our proposals will be accepted. It seems to me that if it is to progress as it should, eugenics must follow new policies and state its case anew, and that from this rebirth we may, even in our own lifetime, see it moving at last towards the high goals which Galton set for it."

The world has a cancer, and that cancer is man." - Merton Lambert, former spokesman for the Rockefeller foundation.

"...The first task is population control at home. How do we go about it? Many of my colleagues feel that some sort of compulsory birth regulation would be necessary to achieve such control. One plan often mentioned involves the addition of temporary sterilants to water supplies or staple food. Doses of the antidote would be carefully rationed by the government to produce the desired population size." - Paul Ehrlich, The Population Bomb, p.130-131

"If I were reincarnated I would wish to be returned to earth as a killer virus to lower human population levels." - Prince Phillip, Duke of Edinburgh, leader of the World Wildlife Fund - quoted in "Are You Ready For Our New Age Future?," Insiders Report, American Policy Center, December '95

"A total population of 250-300 million people, a 95% decline from present levels, would be ideal." - Ted Turner - CNN founder and UN supporter - quoted in the McAlvany Intelligence Advisor, June '96

"Even though it is quite true that any radical eugenic policy will be for many years politically and psychologically impossible, it will be important for UNESCO to see that the eugenic problem is examined with the greatest care, and that the public mind is informed of the issues at stake so that much that now is unthinkable may at least become thinkable." - Sir Julian Huxley, first director general of UNESCO (1946-1948)

The authors demonstrate that the world has now moved beyond economic interdependence to ecological interdependence...this interlocking of the world's economy and the earth's ecology "is the new reality of the century, with profound implications for the shape of our institutions of governance, national and international...The (Earth) summit will be asked to provide developing countries with access to additional financial resources to cover these costs and environmentally sound technologies to enable them to implement the conventions and to integrate environment into their future development.

Here's a goodie from multi-multi billionaire, Standard Oil/Exxon Mobil owner, eugenics supporter, financial supporter of copious left wing Communist front groups like the Center for American Progress and master to Obama's "advisor" Zbigniew Brzezinski one David Rockefeller on his "concern" for the world's environment:

A prominent theme in reports to the Trilateral Commission, as articulated in one of our very first reports in 1974, has been that "growing interdependence and the inadequacy of present forms of cooperation are the principal features of the contemporary international order." Growing economic interdependence is what most of us have had primarily in mind in such reports and discussions. In this report, Jim MacNeill, Pieter Winsemius, and Taizo Yakushiji ask us all to go "beyond interdependence" in this too narrow economic sense, and to recognize the "meshing of the world's economy and the earth's ecology"

And here Communist Soviet Union/North Vietnam supporting Davie shows his true colors as he lauds Communist China:

Whatever the price of the Chinese Revolution, it has obviously succeeded not only in producing more efficient and dedicated administration, but also in fostering high morale and community of purpose. The social experiment in China under Chairman Mao's leadership is one of the most important and successful in human history.

Gee what a shock the American Pravda mouthpiece gang banker shills at the New York Slimes umm Times would give this guy a platform to brainwash umm inform “the imbecile majority”. What’s really scary is one must wonder does devil-worshipping Davie really believe that the former genocidal Mao “fosters high morale”? What’s really “funny” is that all these Progressive-for the restive of us-Nazi oriented self-professed compassionate a-holes like to make us think they’re for the “little guy” and “the world’s poor” or “undeveloped countries”. This little squib about “our” new “science” czar shoots that whole concept to hell, pun intended:

DDT: A Truly Malthusian Policy

The lack of correction has led to a correlative lack of introspection. This author could find no retraction of his 1977 statement, "In our opinion, no biologist has made a greater contribution to humanity in this century than Rachel Carson" (p. 854). Carson's primary contribution, through banning the DDT on erroneous grounds, has been the preventable death of 50-90 million souls in Sub-Saharan Africa and the Indian subcontinent.

In a way, Holdren's support for Carson is a microcosm of his entire philosophy: a deadly and ill-conceived policy based on false evidence of potential harm, whose catastrophic impact has been the opposite of that intended -- never retracted, never regretted, never reconsidered. Such a reflexively self-reverential tone is unhelpful in any public servant. John Holdren's globalist, redistributionist, Malthusian views could prove more damaging for the world than those of his hero.

Still think that WHO “swine flu pandemic” vaccine being called on from David Rockefeller’s playground of devil worshippers and “New” Age weirdoes over at the UN-dead is a good idea?
